State Politics.

Mr. Charles W. Powers, who is something more than a passive student of State politics, says that one of the great mistakes made by the Essex County Republican leaders in State politics is the caucus of Assemblymen-elect from Essex County, and which has come to be known throughout the State as the Essex caucus, "It acts," says Mr. Powers, "like a shout of defiance to the rest of the State and causes the Assemblymen from other North Jersey countles to strike hands with South Jersey for mutual protection against the Essex alliance. The Essex caucus is a strike for plums, but invariably ends in the gathering of crumbs that fail from the South Jersey table." This year again, despite the flerce opposition of Essex to the plans of the South Jerseymen, it was ready to gather the crumbs which fell from the feast table. It is significant, too, that the South Jersey combination which won so handily, with Bradley for Speaker and Horner for leader, allowed Essex such a liberal share of the good things. It may be altogether unselfish, but to the ordinary observer it looks like a shrewd political move, which may show its purpose later on. If Essex had been left entfrely in the cold, with nothing for its little army of hungry men, it would have been in the best of positions to command the situation in the coming session, and contingencies might arise which would leave that situation greatly to be deplored by the South Jersey leaders. They are a pretty shrewd lot down that way, and they count more than a week shead when they are figuring on pol-

Some of the knowing ones say that David Baird of Camden was the master hand in the organization of the Legislature this year, and that Mr. Baird will succeed to the United States Senatorship if occasion requires the present Legislature to fill a vacancy in that Some of the most active of the North Jersey leaders have been actively engaged to the past two or three weeks to Claret (California), qt. against the men' from the southern tier. The purpose of the effort is douotiess to get a grip on things that will count for much when the time shall arrive for the election of a United States Senator. Recently there have been circulated stories to the effect that State Assessor David Baird, one of the shrewdest men in the party organization, was laying the wires for his election, and this bas been used where it would be most effective in influencing votes, but Mr. Baird has come forward with an indignant protest, and declared that he is too close a friend of General Sewell to do anything at this stage of the situ-ation, and has only contempt for those shade the interest of credit him, "It is indelicate, to say the least," said one of his friends, "and no one who knows the Camden leader will for a minute credit the statement that he is so far forgetful of his position and his high regard for the stricken Senator as to use his present illness to further his own ambittion."

Barker Gummere of Mercer County has been named as the man around whom North Jersey men should rally for a successful fight against the Camden
